*"Working Family Households" work the equivalent of a full-time job and earn at least the annual minimum wage of $10,712, but no more than 120 percent of the median income in their area.

**The "Critical Housing Needs" rankings reflect the study's calculations of the share of working families with critical housing needs in each metropolitan area, as measured in the most recent American Housing Survey data provided for each metropolitan area. Working family households that pay more than half their incomes for housing and/or live in severely dilapidated conditions have critical housing needs.
