

DON'T LET THEM KEEP KICKING THE CAN

Now is the time to act. The Senate Banking Committee is considering bi-partisan legislation by Chairman Johnson and Ranking Member Crapo that would replace the failed mortgage firms Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac with a more durable system to provide access to affordable, safe and responsible mortgage finance. Some want you to believe that progress is not possible. We strongly disagree. It's time to stop kicking the can down the road on mortgage finance reform. It's time to support bi-partisan efforts to help everyday American homebuyers and renters.
